AMYNTOR.

SICILIANO

What tho' the blooming ge - nial year In all its beauteous pomp appear What tho' each bluſhing bor-der riſe And primroſe with the vi' - let vies Tho' gay green man - tle ſhade the trees Without Amyn-tor what are theſe what are theſe what are theſe Without A - myn - - tor what are theſe?

II.

What tho' the cuckow from the grove
Proclaims the ſpring the time for love;
What tho' the thrilling lark aſcend,
And makes each rural ear his friend;
Tho' thruſh and blackbird ſtrive to pleaſe;---
Without Amyntor what are theſe?

III.

Tho' ſhepherds each in tender tale,
Proteſt me faireſt of the vale;
What tho', in guileful homage dreſt,
Deceit may lurk t' invade my breaſt;
No ſecond love my ſoul can pleaſe;---
Without Amyntor what are theſe?

For the GERMAN-FLUTE.
